it's the gallup charts

cartridge top 10

1 ● FIFA Soccer '95
■ EA ■ MD
EA's super good looking footie game has been dominating the charts for God knows how long, but with great playability and some top sound effects you understand why.

2 ● The Lion King
■ Virgin
■ MD/GG/MS/SNES
Virgin's latest Disney licence is selling well despite many reports that this game is rock. Long term gameplay and some super animation.

3 ▲ Cannon Fodder
■ Virgin
■ MD/SNES
Sensible Software's witty and clever shoot-'em-up is both taxing and fun to play, with some great variety in the missions.

4 ● Donkey Kong Country
■ Nintendo ■ SNES
The spectacular graphics of DKC have ensured a healthy run of sales, it would appear. Not that we mind, because it's a great game, too.

5 ▲ Micro Machines 2
■ CodeMasters ■ MD
The perfect cart for gamers who try to lead a social life. With the built-in joypad adaptor, the four player mode makes this one of the best multiplayer games ever.

6 ▲ Jungle Book
■ Virgin ■ GG/MS/GB/MD/SNES
Still hanging on in there, despite being some months old now. Just goes to show how well good platformers can do, even in a saturated market.

7 ● Mortal Kombat 2
■ Acclaim ■ SNES/MD/GB/GG
Selling by the bucketload, and deservedly so, is Acclaim's fantastic conversion of the arcade game which changed the face of beat-'em-ups.

8 ▲ Starwing
■ Nintendo ■ SNES
An almost bizarre re-entry for the impressive FX Chip shoot-'em-up. Might be old and crusty, but it's still up there with the best of 'em.

9 ▼ Micro Machines
■ Codemasters ■ MD
Retro-mania hits Megadrive owners as copies of Micro Machines fly off the shelves, despite the superior sequel sitting right next to it.

10 ▼ Mortal Kombat
■ Nintendo ■ MD/GG/SNES/GB
A similarly post-active phenomenon strikes Mortal Kombat as crazed blood-thirsty gore addicts snap up the first Kombat title to sate their demonic lust.

What did the gamesplaying public spend their hard-earned (or stolen) cash on this month? CVG, with a little help from those research analysts at Gallup, now tell you on the quite beautiful Charts page. Oh, and we do not advocate stealing 'cos, well it's wrong innit.
